

David Maki, Heitman

David is a Senior Managing Director at Heitman and serves as Co-Head of the firm's Private Real Estate Debt business and Global Head of Capital Markets. He is a portfolio manager of various private credit strategies including the Heitman Core Real Estate Debt Income Trust an open-end senior lending vehicle, Heitman Real Estate Debt Partners a closed-end mezzanine debt fund, as well as other separate account capital.

Prior to joining Heitman, David was Head of North American Capital Markets for RREEF, National Head of Real Estate Mezzanine Finance for LaSalle Bank, and Managing Director in the Real Estate Merchant Banking group at Wells Fargo. David has an undergraduate degree in Architecture from Ryerson University in Toronto, Canada and an MBA from the University of Michigan.